

Asia Pacific – JOB APPLICANT PRIVACY NOTICE

Last modified: Jan 2025

This Privacy Notice (“Notice”) describes how TPG (“we” or “us”) collects and uses the personal data of job applicants in connection with recruitment by the firm (“Applicants”).

The TPG entity you are applying for a role with is responsible for the processing of your personal data as described in this notice, and can be contacted using the details provided below.

Personal data we collect about you

We collect and use personal data about Applicants, including information which is provided by you to us or one of our affiliates, and information about you that we collect from third parties or generate ourselves. This includes the following:

- Personal details and characteristics including your name, contact information (address, telephone number and email), date of birth, passport number and country of issuance, nationality, place of birth, national ID numbers, historical compensation details, previous employment details, information received in connection with background checks and references which are provided to us by you, your former employers and/or recruitment agents and/or third-party background screening providers.
- Information contained in your CV including occupational details, current job title, current job description, previous employment details, current salary and education details.
- Other information that is generated by us during the recruitment, including commentary and evaluation of your qualifications and interviews, video footage of interviews and your assessment process, and CCTV footage of the premises.
- Communications information such as the contents of any electronic communications with TPG including but not limited to Bloomberg Messaging, Zoom, WhatsApp, WeChat, and any other messaging platform.

You are required to provide certain personal data to TPG so that we may consider your application in light of our business needs, and so that we may comply with our legal and regulatory obligations; and, if your application is successful, so that we can enter into an employment relationship with you. If you fail to provide any personal data that we request, we may be unable to continue evaluating your application, comply with our legal and regulatory obligations or, ultimately, offer you employment.

How we use your personal data

We use the personal data that we collect, subject to applicable law, including for the following purposes:

- Recruitment: managing and administering the recruitment process, communicating with Applicants and maintaining records of those communications, performing background checks, making travel arrangements, making offers to successful Applicants, determining compensation levels, and onboarding purposes.
- Legal and compliance: compliance with legal, regulatory and other requirements such as immigration, record-keeping and reporting obligations, reviewing HR processes, responding to legal process such as subpoenas and court orders, pursuing legal rights and remedies, defending litigation and managing any internal complaints or claims, conducting investigations, ensuring that Applicants meet any applicable regulatory standards for their prospective role and complying with internal policies and procedures.
- Communications, facilities and emergencies: facilitating communications with you, protecting the health and safety of anyone visiting our premises, and safeguarding office equipment, facilities and other property.
- Sensitive information: We may also collect certain types of sensitive personal data for specific purposes, including the collection of health or medical information for accessibility and ‘fit for work’ purposes, diversity-related personal data (such as gender, race or ethnicity), and information relating to criminal background checks. We do not collect your sensitive personal data unless we are required or permitted to do so by applicable law or regulations (for example relating to protection from discrimination, health and safety in the workplace and record keeping requirements), or you have, in accordance with applicable law, provided your explicit consent to the collection and processing of your sensitive personal data.

Data sharing

We may share your personal data with TPG Global LLC and its affiliates for the purposes described in this Notice.

We may share personal data with service providers that perform services on our behalf such as recruitment services providers, background check providers, business communications archiving providers, and hosting providers.

To the extent required by law, we will obtain your consent to share your personal data with these parties.

In addition, we may disclose personal data about you (a) if we are required or permitted to do so (i) by law or legal process, for example due to a court order or a request from a law enforcement agency or (ii) to establish, exercise or defend our legal rights, or (iii) by our regulator(s) or any applicable regulations, (b) when we believe disclosure is necessary or appropriate to prevent physical harm or financial loss, (c) in connection with an investigation of suspected or actual fraudulent or other illegal activity, or (d) in connection with (i) fundraising, (ii) the making, management or disposition of any of our investments, or (iii) business continuity purposes.

Data Transfers

We may transfer the personal data that we collect about you to recipients in countries other than the country in which the personal data originally was collected including the United States of America, China, Hong Kong, Australia, India, Singapore and South Korea. Those countries may not have the same data protection laws as the country in which you initially provided the personal data. When we transfer your personal data to recipients in other countries (such as the U.S.), we will protect that personal data in a way that is consistent with this Notice and, where required by law, seek your consent to transfer your personal information.

Your rights and choices

Subject to applicable law, you may have the right to request:

- confirmation of whether we process personal data relating to you and, if so, to request a copy of that personal data;
- that we rectify or update your personal data that is inaccurate, incomplete or outdated;
- that we erase your personal data in certain circumstances, such as where we collected personal data on the basis of your consent and you withdraw that consent; and
- withdrawal of your consent where you have given us consent to process your personal data.

If you wish to exercise any of your data protection rights or if you consider that we have processed your personal data in violation of applicable law, please contact us as detailed in the “How to contact us” section below. Subject to applicable law, you may also be able to lodge a complaint with the personal data protection authority in your country.

Who is Responsible for your Personal Data
